- Donor since 2008 and a member of Apparo's Philanthropic Leaders Society
- Since 2014, Member of Apparo's CXO Tech Host Council
- Since 2015, connected Apparo to nearly $30,000 in corporate sponsorships
- Winter 2020/21, volunteered on an Apparo Community Impact Project with Memory & Movement Charlotte, helping deliver a much-needed technology plan

I'm motivated by the Apparo mission and their ability to provide technology services and resources to other Charlotte nonprofits who might not be able to obtain them on their own. I've really enjoyed immersing myself in the volunteer experience and directly helping a nonprofit by sharing my technology experience and knowledge. It's wonderful to hear their words of appreciation and know that instead of dealing with technology frustrations they will be able to focus on serving the community. - Allen Kim

Allen consistently went above and beyond to find the right solution for MMC. More than once he followed up outside of our weekly meetings to continue discussion about a particular tech issue, or to understand more about our practice. We got a sense that he was fully dedicated not only to his role as a volunteer, but also to the success of our practice. We couldn't have asked for a more dedicated volunteer. - Mattie Kearsse, Memory & Movement Charlotte

We really benefited from Allen's strategic guidance. It was clear that Allen has worn many hats in his career as he was able to look at issues and decisions from multiple angles. He challenged us to step back and think more broadly about our technology risk, our technology infrastructure and support needs, both now and in the future. Allen is a great educator and communicated complex issues in simple terms. Highly approachable, I would feel confident calling Allen at any time and seeking his counsel. - Janet LeClair, MMC
