We're thrilled to be here together with you this evening, in this beautiful outdoor setting, in the heart of our city beneath its sparkling skyline. Tonight, we'll celebrate the hard, effective work we've accomplished together – how we made life better in Charlotte.

We'll ask "What if?" – What if next year was even better? What if we could accomplish even more through Apparo's unique model? With your continued support as volunteers and funders, we're optimistic that we can.

As a nonprofit, we rely on your generosity – the generosity that brought you here this evening and the generosity we hope you will share with us throughout the night.

Enjoy every moment! Mix, mingle and catch up with old friends. Make new friends and connections. We're all bonded by a common passion for the power of technology and the desire to make positive change. Have a fabulous evening!

Richard Donaldson, Board Chair, Apparo

Creating connections for seniors to reduce the negative impact of social isolation

“The ability of Apparo & our volunteer team to flesh out our needs will have immense impact on our effectiveness in serving seniors in the Mecklenburg area. When we applied for G.A.I.N. I was focused on the new hardware, but now I realize that we are also getting higher level perspective on our organization and planning for our future. - Holly Whitfield, Executive Director, SCC

SCC leadership will have more time develop and market their programs and to teach seniors how to engage with Zoom in order to access this programming. This means that seniors who during this pandemic were quickly losing touch with friends and risking negative impact on their mental health, now engage daily with a growing community of like-minded peers.
